Five Boy Scouts Saved From Mountain Ledge

One Member of Troop Plunges to Death Over Cliff; Others Hang to Rocky Face of Precipice; Forest Ranger Gives Warning

Chevelah, Wash., April 13.—Five boy scouts, a scoutmaster and a guide were rescued from a ledge on Quartzite mountain early today. They narrowly escaped the ledge. Scout Harold Stiffenson, 15, lost his grip on the ledge and fell to his death 300 feet below. The last man to be rescued was Don Hutchinson, the scoutmaster. He was sitting on a narrow projection of rock and could not move in any direction. The accident to the party occurred yesterday afternoon. They were climbing the top of the mountain when the earth gave way and the party catapulting down the mountain. Stiffenson was unable to get a hand hold on the ledge and tumbled to his death. The others clung to their precarious position on the ledge and finally their cries attracted the attention of a forest ranger. The ranger telephoned to Chevelah, a distance of five miles, and a rescue party was hastily organized. The rescue party ascended the west side of the mountain last night, but was unable to get within 50 feet of the boys and their leader. After hours of long climbing the rescue party reached the top of the mountain from another side. Ropes

The charge involves the purchase by the city of several parcels of land for street widening purposes at a price of $134,000. It was announced today by County Surveyor Lloyd C. Kirk. This work is being done in the vicinity of Negley. Three gaps are to be closed on the concrete highway. The state highway department will receive bids at Columbus April 26 for the construction of a new bridge over Bull creek just south of Negley on this road. To Build Bridge The cost of this structure has been estimated at $29,833.45. This bridge will be one of three 60-foot spans and will be built of concrete. The present bridge structure is a "one-way" bridge, and the new one will have a 24 foot roadway. Weather permitting, the first concrete on the Elktion-Clarkson road will be poured May 1. It is announced. The contract for the surfacing of this road was recently awarded to George B. Patterson of Wellsville. GASOLINE TAX RETURNS START THIS SUMMER

Auditor Announces How Distribution of Funds Will Be Made

Columbus, O., April 13.—Distribution of highway improvement funds as provided for in the Sullivan-Bestwick act, increasing the state gasoline tax one cent per gallon, is expected to begin about August 10, next. This statement was contained in a letter sent today by State Auditor Joseph Tracy to boards of county commissioners throughout the state. Tracy pointed out that counties and townships will share with the state and municipalities, in the distribution under the new measure in the event that it becomes law. It sets aside two of the four-cents-per-gallon tax as highway construction fund. This will produce about $17,000,000 a year, Tracy declared, of which 80 per cent will be expended by the state highway director. Explain Distribution The remaining 20 per cent, or about $3,400,000, will be distributed as follows: Five per cent, of $850,000, to be allotted equally among the 88 counties of the state and expended by the county commissioners in constructing, widening and reconstructing the county system of roads as provided in the Green road law. Five per cent will be distributed to municipalities on the basis of motor vehicle population and expended by city authorities. Ten per cent, or $1,700,000, will be distributed from time to time during the year, in equal proportions, among the townships throughout the state. This part of the funds will be paid to the county treasurers who will transfer the various amounts to township treasurers for expenditure by township trustees in constructing, widening and reconstructing unimproved dirt roads, if any. If such secondary road system has been completed, the funds may be used on such township roads as the township trustees shall designate, Tracy stated.

EXPLOSION FATAL TO OHIO WOMAN

Pours Kerosene On Fire; Man Badly Burned, But Will Probably Recover

Sidney, O., April 13.—Mrs. Marion Gump, 40, is dead, and her husband is recovering from burns here today, resulting from an explosion following the pouring of kerosene on a fire. The accident occurred yesterday, and Mrs. Gump died in a hospital here last night. Her husband was burned in his attempt to save her life. This recommendation was immediately set aside by Judge George A. Bartlett, who held that inasmuch as the jury found for the plaintiff, that it should have recognized the property agreement made by the Innans on Nov. 28, 1927. At that time Mrs. Innan agreed to be paid $15,000 a year for not more than five years. The defense objected to Judge Bartlett's action and arguments on this phase of the case will be heard at 10:30 Monday morning. In the event that Judge Bartlett's ruling is upheld, it is expected the defense will appeal to the supreme court.

Columbiana County Motor Club Shows Growth; Interests Rising

Salem Is Responding To Advantages Offered by Organization

Greater interest in the Columbiana County Motor club is reflected in a steady increase in membership throughout the county, and especially in Salem. Manager Albert P. Morris announced today. This membership gain, according to Morris, is due largely to better service maintained and additional advantages offered to members by the club. As the club is not organized for profit, he emphasizes that the larger the membership, the more extensive the service available through affiliation with the club and its parent bodies, the Ohio State Automobile association and the American Automobile association, the latter known as the "Three A's." Morris became manager of the club more than two months ago. He has had wide experience as a salesman as well as in the automobile business. As an automobile dealer in Salem he gained a practical knowledge of motor problems and his service as a director of the county motor club, representing Salem, two years ago gave him an insight

LEGISLATORS TO GATHER MONDAY; BILLS PREPARED

Senate, House Measures Differ But Slightly In Construction

DEBENTURE PLAN AGAIN SUGGESTED

Solons Await Word From Hoover On Topics; Vision Singnature

Washington, April 13.—The newest legislative remedy for the farm problem that has harassed the government ever since the war, was completed today at both ends of the capital for submission to congress when it meets Monday in special session. The house and senate bills, differing slightly in phraseology, will provide for the creation of a federal farm board. Nation-wide stabilization corporations for each farm product, and a $325,000,000 revolving fund to aid farmers in marketing their surplus crops. In its present form, farm leaders generally agreed, President Hoover will sign it. The senate agriculture committee meanwhile held up acting on a suggested provision which would permit the proposed farm board to utilize the old debenture plan of relief if conditions warranted it. The debenture plan, already successful in Germany and Norway, would authorize a government bounty to be paid on the exported surplus of any crop equal to half the tariff on that crop. If applied to wheat, with the present 42 cents a bushel tariff, the bounty would be 21 cents on each exported bushel of wheat. Administration leaders on Capitol hill were waiting for some definite word from President Hoover as to his attitude on this provision. If the president disapproves it, it will be left out of the bill. If it meets with the White House endorsement, it will be included.

Salem's annual tax settlement, totaling $87,562.11 was received today from County Auditor E. E. Walker by Miss Helen Woerther, city auditor. The amount received from general taxes assessed in this city last December, will be added to the general fund of the city, for division among various other funds Miss Woerther states. New York, April 13.—Solemn tribute was paid by nation, state and city today to the memory of the late Myron T. Herrick, ambassador to France, as the body of the great statesman arrived in New York harbor aboard the French cruiser Tourville. Waiting at the pier where the Tourville was due to dock shortly before noon were prominent federal, state and city officials, and a great throng of laymen and women—there to honor the memory of the man who had done so much to cement cordial relations between the United States and France. Conspicuous among those to meet the body was Colonel Charles A. Claim Right to Enter As Political Refugees; Brings Family

ACTION SEVERE BLOW TO CAUSE

Insurgent General Makes No Comment On Actions

Nogales, Ariz., April 13.—The presence here today of three outstanding leaders of the Mexican revolution was seen as a severe blow to the rebel cause. Gilberto Valenzuela, candidate for the presidency of Mexico and reputed ringleader of the revolution, was the last of three leaders to flee across the border and take refuge here. He was preceded by General Francisco Manzo, leader of the unsuccessful expedition against Mazatlan, and by General Jose Bernal, his second in command. Valenzuela, accompanied by his family, reached the American Nogales shortly before midnight last night. He is reported to have brought a large sum of money with him. He announced that he will leave for Los Angeles late today. All three rebel commanders were said by American immigration officials to have claimed the right to enter the United States as political refugees. The desertion of the cause by the three, the first defection among the principal leaders, is said to have had a depressing effect on rebel headquarters across the border. General J. G. Escobar, commander-in-chief of all the revolutionary forces, arrived at Nogales, Sonora, last night from Cananea for a conference with leaders of the revolt. He would make no comment on the action of the trio, nor indicate what effect their action would have on his plans or the morale of the other leaders.

FARM BUREAU FIGHTS BENDER

Organization Enters As Opponent To Change In Legislators

Columbus, April 13.—The Ohio Farm Bureau Federation will enter the battle over the Bender so-called "equal representation" referendum, it became apparent here today. Close observers of the fight declare that the federation has no other choice but to oppose the proposed referendum, which seeks re-apportionment of the members of the state legislature to "break" the supposed majority rural representation in the Ohio General assembly. L. B. Palmer, head of the Farm Bureau, declared that a meeting of the legislative committee of the federation would be held here Monday, and after the convocation, he said, the organization would announce its stand. Sen. George H. Bender, sponsor of the referendum, is scheduled to begin the circulation of his petitions today. Dallas Sullivan, youthful Union County representative, has taken on the yoke of leadership on behalf of the rural districts and is opposing Bender in his referendum fight.

TORTOISE AND HARE

It has been decided by the seers and sages of the state of Ohio that a speed limit of 45 miles an hour is best for Buckeye road users. Included in the legislation clustered around the magic figure of 45 were qualifiers which permitted a speed of 30 to 35 miles in non-congested districts and 15 to 20 miles in congested districts. All in all, it was a rather good piece of law making, but long overdue.

Nothing has been done yet, in fact nothing has been suggested, for another aggravating highway situation, far worse than the thrill that a fast driver may give by exceeding the speed limit by a few miles, a worse pest than the dodger who specializes in tight squeezes. He is the slow driver, the traffic "poker," the meanderer, who delights in serving as a self-appointed leader of 20 or 30 motorists who have progressed past the horse and buggy stage of speed. He drives slowly for one of two reasons: he can't drive any faster, or he is a non-conformer who wants to impress the rest of the world with his attitude. Traffic jams are frequently traceable to him, wrecks in the traffic line and intersectional mix-ups. He it is who causes the burst of speed necessary for following drives to pass him.

Fortunately, or unfortunately, Sunday is his only big day. He is usually an amateur who gets his driving experience vicariously. Confronted with an unusual situation, he loses his head and someone else loses a fender.

A bus driver was heard to remark, "Golly, I hate Sundays. Two classes of boobies are out on Sunday that don't bother you any other day. One is the young smart aleck who takes possession of the whole road and the other is the old fogey who can't get used to anything faster than a brisk trot. They make life miserable for a fellow in my business."

The fast driver has been checked. He was brought down to an average. The slow driver, who is as far from the average in the other direction, is untouched by law, even though his cheeks may burn at the insults that he hears on his weekly jaunt.

He will argue personal liberty. He pays his gasoline tax and his road tax. He will defy you to touch him, but he needs to be touched and with more than a tap. He is the most aggravating menace to be found on the crowded highway.

What Others Say

A contributor to a radical weekly points out that the first millionaire president of the United States has given six of the ten portfolios in his cabinet to men whose financial rating is stated in seven figures or better. "A millionaire cabinet," writes this champion of the proletariat, "will cast a glamor over the progress of the American people toward their new feudal allegiance." What is worse it may "do violence to American traditions of Jeffersonian simplicity."

A more honest critic would at least have mentioned that Mr. Hoover and four of his six millionaire colleagues are what Americans like to know as self-made men. Only two members of the cabinet were born with silver spoons in their mouths and they have added substances and luster to their inheritances by their own industry. One of these has already served in the cabinet for eight years, with conspicuous ability and devotion to the public interest.

A government should reflect the genius and condition of the people. While we were a nation of wood hewers and drawers of water "Jeffersonian simplicity" was well enough, although nine points of it were studied sham and demagoguery. The tradition of this simplicity survives, as pots and herbs have in English court-rooms to ward off the plague, but it hardly fits the wealthiest nation in the world. Washington was reputed in his day to be the richest man in the country. The majority of the men who dominated the government, down to the proletarian revolution headed by Andrew Jackson, were men of substance, who today would probably be numbered among our 15,000 millionaires. They too established a tradition, which we are now reverting to.

The fact that a man has wrested a million dollars from a rags-ridden and close-fisted world does not necessarily remove him from sympathy with his fellow-men, who are all trying to emulate his example; but it does give promise that he will handle the large problems which the cabinet has to deal with more competence than may be expected from a man whose contacts with similar problems in private life have been a series of complete or comparative failures.—Detroit Free Press.

BUICKS"SNIFFLES" A SIGN OF HEALTH NEGLECTBY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.
(United States Senator from New York)

Have you noticed that some of your friends are never without the "sniffles"? They appear to sniff and sneeze on the slightest provocation.

It is a remarkable fact that some persons appear to have no resistance to what ever it is that causes colds. Why is this?

There are certain conditions which the doctors call "reflex" troubles. That is, the real cause of the disturbance may be a long way off, and the symptoms do not give a direct clue to the real ailment.

Some attacks of sneezing are of this type. In nervous persons they may be the effect of a reflex. Women,

The Stars Say—

For Sunday, April 14

SUNDAY'S horoscope holds promise for affairs of church and state, bending the energies in the direction of profound thought and study. And while the general condition of affairs must be read as favorable, yet there is a retarding influence that may militate against important progress for the moment.

Those whose birthday it is, are at the threshold of an interesting year with probably important events in business, new ventures and in employment, despite some tenacious obstacles to overcome. There is a sign calling for personal discretion, possibly in home affairs. A child born on this day will be well equipped for success in many directions, but it may be called upon to use much patience and perseverance in overcoming obstacles.

He chooses but whose labor entertains his vacant fancy; the toil you hate fatigues you soon.

—Armstrong.

For Monday, April 15

MONDAY'S astrological forecast hints of situations to be manipulated by calmness and complete discretion. There is menace of hostile conditions and ill-timed changes, largely superinduced by a tendency to rash and impulsive conduct. With control there are some benefits in store.

Those whose birthday it is, open the year with a menace from Mars, inciting to tumult and rash acts. Important change should not be undertaken under this provocation to strife, contention and poor judgment. A child born on this day may require excellent training and discipline to assist it from shoals of impetuosity and clamor. Self-undoing may be its chief menace.

For thee the fates, severely kind, ordain a cool suspense.—Pope.

Morning prayer and sermon 11. St. Peter's exhortation to copy the example of Christ sprang from a very homely, commonplace necessity. Among his readers were a number of slaves. They, poor oppressed chattels, had no expectation of justice and fair play at the hands of their masters. To "suffer wrongfully" was their everyday lot. Let them remember their true Master's example. St. Peter, with the memory of that hour in the Hall of Calaphias, could never forget how he had seen Him, patient and unrepentant, carrying out His own teaching as to the blessedness of meekness and gentleness; nor the triumphant vindication which Easter Day had brought Him from the Lord the Righteous Judge. Let them think of these things. Are stripes laid upon their backs an all too frequent experience? Let them make them a blessing as reminders of Him, by whose stripes they were healed. Years before Peter had heard the Lord speak of the "other sheep" who were not of the fold of Galilee and Jerusalem. Here were some of them - poor slaves of the Dispersion. They have a Shepherd and a Guardian of their souls. Their bodies may for a while be at the brutal caprice of their owners, but their redeemed souls are the objects of the loving care of Him who has called them from their wanderings to the One Promise, and will, according to His promise, keep them safe.

Leadership carries heavy responsibility. There is joy in being a leader. An important question is, where are you leading those people who are following you? To God, or away from God? On the upward path, or the downward road? Hezekiah led his people to God.

Faith in Jesus Christ today, ranks above faith in Him, when He lived in the flesh. We close our eyes and follow Him with unfaltering step. Invisible is He to us, but we believe anyway.

Characters in the play were: Marjorie Bell, Joe Hertz, Wilford Smith, Betty Coles, Jack Perkins, Vivienne Parks, Aurelia Dan, Julia Bodo, Freda Ulrich, Ruth Auld and Anna Mae Painter.

The next meeting will be held May 10.

over Little Yellow creek at Wellsville, and as soon as this project is finished a concrete base will be poured for the brick roadway. This bridge will be practically completed within the next 10 days.

The state highway department will receive bids at Columbus April 26 for the erection of about two miles of new guard rail in Columbiana county. In addition the department will open bids for the clearing of brush from approximately 82 miles of improved highways in the county. Cost of new guard rails has been estimated at $5,541.50 and the clearing of brush has been estimated at $3,401.20.

Contractors Await Weather
"Every contracting interest identified with new road construction in Columbiana county this season is anxious to get on the different projects," Kirk said today. "Just now the wet season is holding all improvements back, but I am of the opinion that all new projects will be actively underway not later than May 1."

The two largest surfacing projects so far awarded are the Clarkson-Elkton road and the St. Clair Township section of the East Palestine-East Liverpool road. When the former road is finished this will give a direct outlet from the Lincoln highway at Lisbon eastward to Elkton and connect with the East Liverpool-Youngstown road just north of Williamsport.

"With the new concrete section of the latter road opened for traffic in Liverpool township, there will be a concrete highway between Lisbon and East Liverpool with the single exception of the three mile brick and slag road between Lisbon and Elkton."

and A. A. cards of introduction, as well as other information for the tourist, are being offered as in the past.

This year the travel information includes much that is of assistance to those who travel abroad, by steamship or airplane. Detailed information on foreign travel is available, and if you contemplate your first airplane ride, you may obtain from the club information on landing fields, plane schedules, etc.

Emergency road service, through the aid of A. A. stations throughout the United States and Canada, is one of the important services that come through motor club membership. There are 27 Three A service stations in Columbiana county.

Accident Insurance Given
Personal accident insurance, courtesy bond for appearance in case of arrest, eliminating embarrassment, loss of time, etc., and license departments, enabling members to obtain automobile licenses at no inconvenience and no cost, and bill of sale service, are listed as other services extended by the Columbiana County Motor Club.

Membership in the American Automobile association, which goes with membership in the county club, gives members the privileges of more than 1000 clubs in the United States and Canada.

These are only a few of the benefits of club membership and Manager Morris already is preparing to add new features. Many road and traffic signs are erected by the club and through its connection with the state and national organizations it is able to enlarge upon its services from time to time.

Social Verdict Rendered In Favor Of Dolly Gann

Washington, April 13. — The heavy cannonading and furious musketry that have featured the capital's great social war has died down to desultory sniping.

The main engagement is over, and Mrs. Edward Everett Gann, half-sister and official hostess to Vice President Curtis, emerges victorious.

Tonight she will taste the first sweet fruits of her victory at a formal dinner to be given by the Chilean ambassador. She will march proudly to her seat on the arm of her host as the ranking lady present. In her wake will trail the wives of diplomats and other ladies of the official set.

It took the concerted if reluctant action of two-score harassed and embarrassed diplomats to insure Mrs. Gann her seat but she now possesses it indubitably, and all the sniping from the vantage point of Washington tea tables cannot dislodge her. Henceforth at all ceremonial and official dinners, Mrs. Gann is to be seated as the ranking lady whenever Mrs. Hoover is not present.

The only cloud on the horizon that might disturb Mrs. Gann's serenity is the possibility that capital society generally will not accept the ruling of the diplomatic corps at the private and more intimate affairs. However, she can always stand on her prerogative of declining to go to homes where she is not accorded the rank for which she fought such a spectacular battle.

LOANS up to $500

Nowadays with competition so great you usually get your money's worth no matter what you buy. And the same thing holds true when it comes to borrowing. You are almost sure to get what you pay for in financial service from most any reliable money-to-loan concern.

Of course there are many things to consider even when you borrow money—What of benefits and costs?—How about the standards and reputation of the lender?—In case of sickness or unemployment, then what?—Is the company fair, honorable, reliable and really interested in the human side, or is it all a matter of profit?

When you have found out about these things, and should you decide to borrow from The City Loan you will have the satisfaction of knowing that you have chosen an organization where counsel, capital and co-operation are always at your service.

Sophmores Win Salem High School Inter-Class Track Title

Second-Year Lads Take Three Places In Discus To Nose Out Opponents

Sophomore class tracksters broke up a perfectly good field and track event at Reilly Stadium, Friday afternoon, when they annexed three places in the discus throw for 10 points, and won the annual battle for the Salem High intramural championship. The second-year lads, up until the time of the weight event, were in third place, but were never headed thereafter.

The Sophs annexed titular honors with 48 points, the juniors finishing runners-up with 43½. Seniors totalled 32 for third, and freshmen brought up the rear, after staging a pucky battle for honors with 29.

For more than three-quarters of the meet the outcome was uncertain, the yearlings holding the lead, by a small margin most of the time. It was nip-and-tuck throughout, until the sophs grabbed off five points in the low hurdles, and then topped first, second, and third in the plate-heaving contest.

Fresh Lead Early

Ed Beck and Len Yates annexed first and second, respectively, in the century dash, to head their freshmen cohorts to an early lead. Aided by several second and fourths, and one third, the frosh managed to keep ahead through the first five events.

After the pole vault, the lead changed hands between the frosh, seniors and juniors, the sophs' threat never being serious. Of the last nine events, though the sophs eked out five firsts and forged to the front rapidly, and by the time the relay rolled around, had the affair clinched.

Beck and Yates ran a fairly close race in the 100, Myron Whinnery being boxed out at the start, when he stepped out of his lane, and was unable to put up his best battle. Beck broke the tape at 11.1 seconds. Whinnery came through first in the 220, finishing ahead of Henry Reese, flashy soph athlete, by a nose. Herren and Bowling finished third and fourth in this event.

Walker Wins Mile Run

Harold Walker and Al Brantingham, after a slow start, finished the gruelling mile race in sensational manner, Brantingham coming up from fifth place to a close second. Walker held a place behind H. Carpenter, who set the pace most of the way, and finished strong.

Todd, plucky junior, came up from the rear, to beat Carpenter by inches for third honors. Polly Startick, with a toss of 85 ft. 10½ inches, took first in the discus, for the sophs. Ray Smith and Augie Corso, also second-year men taking second and third. This event practically decided the outcome of the meet.

Scott, senior, broke the tape first in both the 120 yard high hurdles and the 440 yard dash, defeating Ekeby Cox in two events after some classy sprinting by both lads. Neither event was made in record-breaking time, the 440 being clocked at 20.8 seconds and the hurdles at 19.3.

Reese Runs Fast Race

Henry Reese, in winning the low hurdles, created a surprise, stepping the sticks in 29.9 seconds on the wet track. Beck also ran a nice race, clicking it in 30.2 in his first race of scholastic competition.

Harold Walker, winner of the mile, finished ahead of Brantingham again in the 880, in two minutes 14.9 seconds, excellent time, considering the condition of the track.

None of the field events were won with extraordinary marks, the probably best showing being made in the high jump, Heston clearing five feet five inches. The field was wet and soggy, handicapping athletes considerably from exhibiting their best.

Beck Gets Point Honors

Beck, with 15 points, won high score honors. The coming freshman took first in the 100, tied for first in the high jump, second in the vault, and second in the low hurdles. Scott took second high score laurels.

Graham Loses To Chocolate Kid Via Foul

Disqualification Brings to End Wild Battle In Gotham Ring

BY DAVIS J. WALSH

New York, April 13.—This man Chocolate must have been left out in the sun too long or maybe he wasn't stirred well before using. Anyhow, for a pretender to the throne of the bantamweights, he looked pretty sour in beating Bushy Graham at the opening of the New York Coliseum last night in apparently the only way in which he could beat Graham any time. The latter was winning somewhere off by himself when he dropped the fourth and last of a series of unintentionally low lefts down below the bread line and was called out on a foul in the seventh round.

Thus came to an untimely conclusion one of the wildest evenings ever sponsored this side of Gehenna. There were three knockdowns to add to the gaiety of the occasion.

Chocolate won only three rounds of the seven and was being out-boxed and even outpunched when the abrupt ending of the fight saved his ebony countenance. Graham, strong at 121½ pounds a pound and a half over Chocolate's register, head-slipped the colored man's leads and, using the typical Graham style with hands dangling at the sides, brought up lefts and rights to the head and body in dazzling sequence.

Chocolate was on his back from a right cross to the jaw before the first round was over and showed he was really hurt by getting up before the count hardly was under way. Graham might have won by a knockout here if the bell hadn't intervened to save Chocolate.

Marletta, O. — James Martin Shawhan, 71, poet whose works have been nationally published in magazines and newspapers, died at his home here after a short illness. Shawhan was known as the "James Whitcomb Riley of Ohio." He was born in Monongahela, Pa.

Salem Saxons Meet Homestead Tossers In Court Duel Here

Homestead, Pa., Saxons and Salem Saxons furnish city fans with some post-season basketball entertainment tonight at the Memorial gym, when the two teams clash in the battle for second place in the Penn-Ohio German league.

The Keystone state quintet headed Salem a bad licking on their trip to Homestead, and the latter now rests in third place, a game behind Homestead. A win tonight will put Salem in second place.

Salem has had a bad time of it during the past four or five games, and is unable to put out its best display of basketball. The team looked somewhat better last week, trimming Farrell, Pa., by a one-sided score, but Farrell is probably the loop's weakest outfit. Homestead, through its decisive win on its own starting combine. Homestead has added three men to its roster, and is stronger than in the early part of the schedule. The Emmanuel Lutheran Cadets will oppose Alliance Cadets in the preliminary at 7:30. Joseph M. Kelley will handle the whistle in both contests.

The Gary Cooper-Lupe Velez success, "The Wolf Song," Moot Gibson in "King of the Rodeo," and Ken Maynard in "Lawless Legion," complete another series of successful high class cinematic productions in Salem theaters tonight. Each of these features finishes a run at the State, Royal and Grand Theaters, respectively.

Next week's high spots will include the picturization of the well known collegiate film, "Floating College," at the Royal, and "Revenge," "Chinatown Nights," and "Trail of '98" at the Grand and State, together with the famous Brownlee's Hickville Follies, a conglomeration of fun and rhythm, which appear at the Grand four days, starting Monday.

The Follies are billed as the oldest comedy rural review on stage circuits, and are scheduled to bring to the Salem playhouse a collection of high-class singing, dancing and novelty acts, with a fine troupe of musicians.

Del Rio in Two Hits

Dolores Del Rio, one of the great effeminate hits of the winter and spring screen season, makes her appearance in two features next week. The first will be her best known production, "Revenge," which is at the Grand Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday and the second is "The Trail of '98" which closes the week at the State.

This latter vehicle is rated as one of the screen miracles of cinema history. One man was killed during the period of production amid actual Alaskan scenes along the Yukon, and the entire affair is tinged with vivid adventure of the days when all America and several foreign countries went "gold-mad" through the discovery of the precious metal in the far north.

It is at the State Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

"Floating College" Sally O'Neil, one of Tiffany production's latest discoveries, is starred, along with the favorite Buster Collier in "Floating College." The narrative describes the campaigns of two sisters to annex the affections of handsome young male swimming teacher.

The younger lass uses methods in vogue among all modern flappers, while the elder sister is one of the old-fashioned, and so-called more sensible class. She persuades father that her "sis" is making an idiot of herself over the instructor, and he sends her off on a flating college. But—the swimming teacher is a member of the faculty, and plenty of fun results.

"Chinatown Nights" Wallace Beery and Florence Vidor are cast in leading roles in "Chinatown Nights," taken from the fictional narration "Tong War." It portrays Beery as a Chinatown leader and Miss Vidor the rich young millionaire, who falls in love with him. The love of the scintillating heroine for the cynical, coarse, brutal white man, who is ruler over a million Chinese sets the scene for an intriguing and pulsating vehicle which is heralded as the best both ever participated in.

"Revenge" needs hardly any introduction. The exotic, alluring Del Rio as a fiery Gypsy maid of many moods and tempers is alluring as usual, but in greater, higher type of film. It pictures graphically the feuds, fierce hatreds, wild loves of her race—a glamorous tale of Gypsy blood.

Pictures to the type such as have been shown here for weeks place this city in a realm of high class showdom. "Trail of '98" is a scoop for local playhouses—it has been released for only a short time. "Floating College" is one of the greatest modern stories ever filmed—the entire bill for the week is one of many and varied attractions.

Underworld Tale Conrad Nagel and May MacAvoy are starred in "Caught in the Fog," a popular crook play, with the shoot-to-kill drama of the underworld brought out in fine order. It is a thrilling and amusing tale of the attempts of gangs of competing crooks to steal a famous string of pearls from a

DELIVERED FULLY EQUIPPED

Ask the Salesman this Question:

EVERY prospective motor car purchaser should ask every salesman he talks to, this question: "What is the price of this car, delivered to me, fully equipped with all the equipment?"

You should also ask what the difference is between the factory (f. o. b.) price and the delivered price—and then ask what that difference buys.

Heretofore it has been customary for factory prices to cover only the bare car. This permits the dealer to sell you your bumpers and the other accessories, at retail prices.

Nash, in introducing the new "400"

Series, pioneered a new practice, by installing this extra equipment at the factory, at no extra cost to you.

When you ask the suggested question you'll find most salesmen (not Nash salesmen) reluctant to answer. They would rather not say how much more there is to pay, or what the extra money buys.

And you'll also find that by reason of the Nash policy, Nash "400" delivered, fully-equipped prices are much lower than those of many other cars with the same factory (f. o. b.) prices, and lower than some cars with even lower factory (f. o. b.) prices.
